Week Ending 9th October 2020

We have had a busy and fun couple of weeks in the daffodil class.

In our English lessons we have been studying Kenning poems, the children are now enjoying planning and writing their own. Mr Clarke and I are very impressed with their enthusiasm and poetic skills. We are really looking forward to reading their finished Kennings this week.

Yesterday we had a fun science afternoon where we carried out an experiment by testing different materials to discover if they were magnetic. It was fantastic to see the children working independently to make their predictions and test the materials.

Yesterday we had a great time running around the new 'Daily Mile' track, it was brilliant to see all the children enjoying their exercise and trying their very best. We are looking forward to running on Friday to raise money for 'Send a Cow' foundation and we will be learning more about the challenges that the children of Kenya face.

We thank God for keeping us safe and for reminding us to be thankful.
