Daffodil Class Blog

Week Ending 19th March 2021

It has been absolutely amazing to have the whole of Daffodil Class back together again 😊

In maths, we have started a new 'multiplication and division' Year 3 unit with lots of tricky mathematical concepts. We found it challenging at first, but we are so good at it now! Miss Graham is so impressed with our perseverance.

In English lessons, we began this week finishing our Cautionary Tales – they are quite scary, and Miss Graham was so impressed with how much we understood the genre! Next, we are going to be learning all about whales and how to write a persuasive leaflet to help the endangered sea creatures! We can't wait!

In our topic lessons we have been learning about volcanoes and earthquakes – we can now tell you lots of things about the Earth and its structure and we have even learnt about tectonic plates! We have also been looking at an amazing artist called Victoria Potrovizta. We are in the middle of (attempting to) recreate a piece of her artwork!

We are thankful to God for letting us all be together again so that we can do our fantastic learning together 😊
